Alumni Career Highlight: Jenny Katool

From developing innovative product to crafting delicious recipes, Sanderson Farms' product development manager, Jenny Katool, is passionate about working in agriculture and has been ever since she joined the company over 35 years ago. Katool is a W Class of 1978 graduate where she holds a bachelor of science in home economics education and a certificate in Culinary Arts. Katool also holds a master of science in nutrition from the University of Southern Mississippi. When asked how The W prepared her for entering the workforce and being successful in her career, Katool says " The W's excellent academic reputation and small class size made it the perfect learning environment for me. I was able to build meaningful relationships with my professors that prepared me both intellectually and socially. I was taught to think for myself, adapt to and solve problems and become a lifelong learner. This nurturing environment stayed with me throughout my career."

Career Exploration

It's hard to figure out what you're supposed to do 'the rest of your life'. No one thing or person can tell you what to major in or what career path you should take, but career assessments can provide direction so you can make the best decision for YOU.
