

RSI Course Evaluations

Do you teach an online course, course section, or other type of course that involves students who interact solely online?

A session on RSI will be held at 2pm, 1/8/24 in the Library Digital Classroom. Another session at 11 am, 1/9/24 in the Library Digital Classroom will also be held.

It is recommended that Faculty attend one of these sessions to complete their evaluations.

Faculty should complete the "Online Course RSI Evaluation Form" by January 31st (1/31/24)

This evaluation should be completed for each online course in which a faculty member is the instructor of record. The evaluation link is below and at

<https://www.muw.edu/ctl/resources/rsi/>

Per federal Title 34 requirements regarding Regular Substantive Interaction (RSI), the KCTL is asking faculty to complete a brief self-evaluation of their online courses each semester.

A more detailed explanation of RSI and Title 34 can be found at

W Books + Reminder

If you have adopted digital materials or courseware for your course, please confirm that digital materials are populating in the "Course Materials Spring 2024" page in Canvas.

If your courseware requires coordination with a publisher for setup, you should have received notification from that publisher regarding setup. If you have not received any information regarding setup, please refer to the Faculty Resources page (<https://www.muw.edu/ctl/resources/>) or contact the KCTL directly for support.

Interested/Concerned about Generative AI tool usage in your course?

Example syllabus statements have been provided on the KCTL Faculty Resources Page (<https://www.muw.edu/ctl/resources/>)

For questions or assistance regarding these policies please contact the KCTL
