

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY

The Speech-Language Pathology program enables students to develop professional knowledge and clinical skills.

Traditional and non-traditional students will demonstrate leadership, critical thinking, and problem-solving abilities professionally and competently in a variety of clinical settings. The graduate program offers a Master of Science degree in Speech-Language Pathology.

Students who have an undergraduate degree in an area other than speech-language pathology, communication disorders, etc., must meet all prerequisite requirements.
